

Spoons: An Appreciation

dolce
Ah, the ro-mance of spoons. Their good -ness.

dolce
con ped.

8
How they fit to-ge-ther, how they lie to ge-ther hip to hip, spoon-ing com-for-tab-ly in that slend-er bed, the 14

drawer. I be-lieve in spoons, their es-sen-tial good na - ture. They are the 20

gent lest - of the u - ten - sils. Knives cut; forks jab, but spoons

27

cra-dle. The knives slice-es meat. The fork skew-ers it. But the 33

spoon is o-val and holds sips. It is the u - ten - sil of mo-der - a - tion, of cure, spoon-fuls of me-di-cine, spoons full of care_A spoon will ne-ver hurt you, ne-ver jab nor cut you. There is no blood in the hist-ory of the spoon...

39

44

poco accel.

poco accel. Spoons are the

pp

48

sex-i-est of the u - ten sils fe - mi-nine and round - ed

51

all curve and cam - ber Knives - are phal - lic and

55

forks - are ag-gres - sive, tooth - y, but spoons are the shapes of breasts and

59

but - tocks To knife - is to pierce, to fork is to branch out,

63

but to spoon is to - make love cud - dle to - geth

rit. rit.

67

er. The gent-le spoon, to bespoon fed like a child. Spoons are the u ten sils of ba - bies. The spoon con - serves, con - tains no thers.

73

79

Ah, the ro-mance of spoons. Their good - ness.